Colossal

Wolfmother

I saw the colossal landscape Of which I never was a part

It was a magical day

Of which Id never seen before The first time I saw colossal girl The first time I saw colossal girl Such glowing mountains before us

Pillars of life all fade away

Of all the things I need to say girl

All of these woods are in my wayThe first time I saw colossal girlWell, she's running to the hills again Can you tell me if she'll ever return?

She must be mother natures child

'Cause she's runnin' to the call of the wildShe's talkin' to the trees again

Tellin' me that she's one of them

Lookin' at the bird in the tree

Though she's never gonna notice me, noOh is my love a confession

Will I just put it back today?

If I had a love to give you

Would you still throw it all away? The first time I saw colossal girl

The first time I saw colossal girlWell, she's running to the hills again

Can you tell me if she'll ever return?

'She must be mother natures child

Cause she's runnin' to the call of the wildShe's talkin' to the trees again

Tellin' me that she's one of them

Lookin' at the bird in the tree

Though she's never gonna notice meCan you remember the first time we met

Living together in colossal times

Some things are given with no reason why

Living together in colossal timesI'm just a gypsy with wondering eyes

I'll tell you secrets that send you to sleep

All I can give you is all of my love

These are the things I can give you to keep, ohI'm just a gypsy with wondering eyes

I'll tell you secrets that send you to sleep

All I can give you is all of my love

And these are the things I can give you to keep
