Strange Face

Diamond Geezer

Let go of your love
Ride his pulse and you forget
Slow down your time will come
If not tonight surely by the dawnJust take it like a man
The strange face of loveA cat's eye, a lizard's tail
The pentagram, he bought in hell
He stalks the night with no intent
His brow sweets for innocenceTake it like a man
The strange face of loveDon't look back, don't look back
He's right on your trail
Don't look back, don't look back
He's just a step away from hell
Don't look back, don't look back
Into the strange face of loveThe rain's soul makes kill and cry
He wants desperately to die
But fast and skillfully forgets
He's back on the street with no regretsJust take it like a man
The strange face of loveDon't look back, don't look back
He's right on your trail
Don't look back, don't look back
He's just a step away from hell
Don't look back, don't look back
Into the strange face of loveDon't look back, don't look back
He's right on your trail
Don't look back, don't look back
He's just a step away from hell
Don't look back, don't look back
Into the strange face of loveStrange face of love
Strange, strange
Strange face of love
Strange
