Love Is a Temple

Mario Biondi

There's nothing that I can do
I've set my mind on you
The more that I see you're not real
The more I believe I feelI gotta reach out to you
And hold you some day somehow
And when my love dreams come true
Oh LordNo matter how and what it takes, to be there
No fear that can't be won by love
If you believe itLove is a temple
Don't take it for granted
And when it happens
It's time to write your storyI tried to break all the rules
And all are too hard too soon
But it's time I'm close to you
Girl, you slip away from me
I'll never lose the chance to get here, uh yeah
You'll better make this rain on time
You and ILove is a temple
Don't take it for granted
And when it happens
It's time to write your storyOoh, love is a temple
Don't take it for granted
And when it happens
It's time to write your storyNo matter how and what it takes, to be there
No fear that can't be won by love
If you believe it, yeahOoh
Oh oh oh oh
Love is a temple
Don't take it for granted
And when it happens
It's time to write your storyLove is a temple
Don't take it for granted
And when it happens
It's time to write your storyWrite your story
Right now
