

The Unspeakable Stands Revealed

Gong

Well, here's the question, all information is at stake
The end of history, is it a mystery or mistake?
Why are you sleeping? You should be keeping yourself awake
Temple constructor, superconductor all that was
Are we so certain, behind the curtain we'll find Oz?
So now we're nearing self-engineering and all because Before I was so frightened at what the end would bring Alone, tied to the cycle or part of everything?
Reflections that reveal the mystery further
Serve only to reflect the thing itself
It's only the unspeakable within that
Resembles more the mystery itself
Well life is central, it's elemental what we think
Lost on this ocean, time is a notion, the missing link
But understanding that we're all standing on the brink of Reflections that reveal the mystery further
Serve only to reflect the thing itself
It's only the unspeakable within that
Resembles more the mystery itself
