

Wrestling an Angel

Carolina Liar

A castle made of sin
Waiting for the tide to break
I hold tight, it won't be long
I still have my Faith
I see the way that carries my name
Like a salty kiss
I'm overwhelmed right now
I am powerless
Like wrestling an angel
It's the hardest thing that I've ever done
Wrestling an angel
I know I've won if the morning comes
And though i tho-oo-ght
I'll be back again
And though i tho-oo-ght
I'll be back again
Could I understand
Would everything be clear
Cause what makes, since right now
Doesn't matter how we get from here
Like rain we run for cover
Underneath the dirt we hide
The truth is I am overwhelmed
I am terrified
Like wrestling an angel
It's the hardest thing I've ever done
Like wrestling an Angel
I know I've won if the morning comes
And though i tho-oo-ght
I'll be back again
And though i tho-oo-ght
I'll be back again
A castle made of sin
Waiting for the tide to break
I hold tight, it won't be long
I still have my faith
Like wrestling an angel
The hardest thing I've ever done
Like wrestling an Angel

I know i've won if the morning comes

And though I tho-oo-ght

I'll be back again

And though I tho-oo-ght

I'll be back again
