Rules For Living

Blondie

I'm another life
When the Gods were crazy
And the measurement of time
Was the ending seasons
And maybe we believed
There was anger in the storm
Sometimes the sky reminds me
And if you think that's wild
There's my dream of Egypt
And the color of the Nile
You're a Roman Soldier
It's a small world after all
But it's older than you think
Sometimes your eyes remind me
Don't know why
I'll wait a lifetime till you find me
There are times
I've been this way before
I'll come this way again
So many things remind me
So many things inside me
Sometimes your eyes remind me
Don't know why
I'll wait a lifetime till you find me
There are times
I've been this way before
I'll come this way again
So many things remind me
So many things inside me
In another life
When the Gods were crazy
And complaining all the time
And the people look at me
The volcano wants a bribe
And I'm still afraid of fire
Sometimes your eyes remind me
I don't know why
I'll wait a lifetime till you find me
There are times

I've been this way before
I'll come this way again
So many things remind me
So many things inside me
I've been this way before
I'll come this way again
So many things remind me
So many things inside me

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/