

Just Another

ABiCA

Just another mother fucker dead for the wrong reasons
He says he's coming back but he keeps on leaving
He's breathing he's trying to keep his faith
But he keeps on thinking that his life's just a waste
Just another mother fucker that thinks he knows it all
But this mother fucker don't know shit at all
The smartest mother fuckers know they don't know nothing
But they're always learning trying to understand something
Just another politician that keeps on lying
Another baby gone but the mother's still crying
She's dying she just wants peace
But there's death right here and there's war in the middle east
And she really wants to know but there's nothing she can do
Cuz in the daytime there's nightmares too
The world's full of lies and schools a scam cuz they can't fucking tell me how to live or who I am
Chorus
Pick a line in time we watch em all fall
Pick a side it's fine we watch em all fall
Pick a life take mine we watch em all fall
Watch them as they take em all
Pick a line in time we watch em all fall
Pick a side it's fine we watch em all fall
Pick a life take mine we watch em all fall
Watch us come and take em all
Just another mother fucker trying to act so tuff
And this other mother fucker trying to call his bluff
Now these stupid mother fuckers know they can't back down
Stupid fucker number one shot the other fucker down
Just another bomb blowing up a building
We don't see all the killings of millions
They wanna lead but be careful where you follow
They shadow all their lies till there may be no tomorrow
We wanna believe that everything's fine
That our rules and our values are on the same line
And that everybody's knowing that everything is fine
But you're just another person so na
