

Postcards From Berlin

Alvarez Kings

Soon enough
We will reach our destination
What a rush
Blurry eyed no time to climatize our minds
Hit highs and lows we're comin' down
And holding on
Never ever wanna let go. Soon enough
We will reach our destination
What a rush
Blurry eyed no time to climatize our minds
Hit highs and lows we're comin' down
And holding on
Never ever wanna let go.
But you, you, you didn't know
I was out in the cold
But you were never patient for my calls
Unlock the door to nobody else
You, you, you didn't know
I was out of control
But you were never patient for my calls
Unlock the door to nobody else To think of me and help you sleep
I'll send a postcard every week
When you're hurting I hope you get my
Postcard from Berlin
And you are smiling Soon enough
We will reach our destination What a rush
Never ever wanna let go.
But you, you, you didn't know
I was out in the cold
But you were never patient for my calls
Unlock the door to nobody else
You, you, you didn't know
I was out of control
But you were never patient for my calls! To think of me, and help you sleep
I'll send a postcard every week
When you're hurting I hope you get my
Postcard from Berlin
Remember me, don't forget me...
I, will drink myself to sleep

Don't forget me and I will see
Your face in every girl I meet To think of me and help you sleep
I'll send a postcard every week
When you're hurting I hope you get my
Postcard from Berlin
Remember me, remember me
I will drink myself to sleep
Don't forget me and I will see
Your face in every girl I meet
