

Morning After

Howie Day

Calcutta streams from porch life
Where we opened up our party gifts
And you fell down the stairs on purpose And you drive to Europe in the rain
Your hair is done up (but no one's gonna see it)
Maybe you should take me home, home What could be so wonderful about this?
What could be so wonderful?
Half-light wakes you up the morning after
Fall down with me and roll around now.
The girl is cold, but so is he,
But he's still warm she's way too kind.
When you walk in the morning after,
Looking good and you know it. Find out about the music
Is the CD jammed or upside down?
I'd really like to feel you with dinner And we're sitting on a city bench
Together in a tourist town
If the fashion ad were here you'd be in it, in it. What could be so wonderful about this?
What could be so wonderful?
Half-light wakes you up the morning after,
Fall down with me and roll around now.
The girl is cold, but so is he
But he's still warm she's way too kind.
When you walk in the morning after
Looking good and you know it, yeah yeah Now I'm closing my eyes and I'm spinning
Spin me away away
I don't know if I should stay but
What do I do when you say It's okay, it's okay, it's okay. What could be so wonderful about this?
What could be so wonderful?
Half-light wakes you up the morning after,
Fall down with me and roll around now.
What could be so wonderful about this?
What could be so wonderful?
Half-light wakes you up the morning after,
Fall down with me and roll around now. Fall down with me and roll around, around, around.
