Time To End The Story

Az Yet

First chapter, you stole my heart away from me
Made me believe true love could be
We were so close you changed my life
How could a love so strong not go right?
Where do we go from here?
When it's said our love would stay around
Why do I even care?
The way you looked it can't be found, oh no
My heart is broken down
I'm turnin' pages once again
It's time to make this story end
Time to close the book to this story
I don't wanna read it no more
Time to close the book to this story
Another writer will come along, I'm sure
Final chapter, I say goodbye, I made you cry
I did what I could, you know I tried
There's no more to say, so I'll go my way
You know it hurts me but that's the price we pay
Where do we go from here?
When it's said our love would stay around
Why do I even care?

Because when I looked it can't be found
My heart is broken down
I'm turning pages once again
It's time to make this story end
Time to close the book to this story
I don't wanna read it no more
Time to close the book to this story
Another writer will come along, I'm sure
Time to close the book to this story
I don't wanna read it no more
Time to close the book to this story
Another writer will come along, I'm sure
Time to close the book to this story
I don't wanna read it no more
Time to close the book to this story
Another writer will come along, I'm sure

Time to close the book to this story
I don't wanna read it no more
Time to close the book to this story
Another writer will come along, I'm sure
