

I Really Want You

James Blunt

I really want you
I really want you Many Prophets preach on bended knees
Many clerics wasted wine,
Do the bloody sheets and those troubled streets mean?
I have wasted time, Are there silver shores on paradise?
Can I come in from the cold?
I killed a man in a far away land
My enemy untold I really want you to really want me
But I really don't know if you can do that (really want you)
I know you want to know what's right
But I know so hard for you to do that (really want you)
Time's running out as it often does
And often dictates that you can't do that (really want you)
Fate can't break this feeling inside
That's burning up through my veins I really want you
I really want you
I really want you
Now No matter what I say or do
The message isn't getting through
And you're listening to the sound
Of my breaking heart I really want you
I really want you Is a poor man rich in solitude?
Or when mother earth complained
Did the beggar pray for a sunny day but
Lady luck for rain They say a million people bow and scream
To an effigy of gold
As so life begin
And the ship we're in
And history unfold I really want you to really want me
But I really don't know if you can do that (really want you)
I know you want to know what's right
But I know so hard for you to do that (really want you)
Time's running out as it often does
And often dictates that you can't do that (really want you)
Fate can't break this feeling inside
That's burning up through my veins I really want you
I really want you
I really want you
Now No matter what I say or do

The message isn't getting through
And you're listening to the sound
Of my breaking heart I really want you
I really want you
I really want you

Songwriters

Blount, James Hillier Published by

Lyrics © EMI Music Publishing Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>