

Clean Sheets.

Descendents

Clean sheets mean alot, to a guy who sleeps on the floor.
Well I wanted your love and a shelf on your dresser drawer.
You tucked me in and stopped my tossing and turning
But I turned back the covers and I saw those sheets are dirtyEven though you'll never come clean
You know it's true
Those sheets are dirty
And so are youThe warmth of a bed to a guy who sleeps on the floor
Was enough to perpetuate all the lies I heard before but now I want to hold you, gotta hold my pillow instead Cause my pillow will never lie or be with a stranger in my bedEven though you'll never come clean
You know it's true
Those sheets are dirty
And so are youWhere's the love I was looking for It's out the door
I'm afraid to see you anymore
So it's back on the floor
Cause those sheets are dirtyWoke up this morning alone on the floor
Thinking about those clean sheets and the way it was before
When I looked in the mirror, I saw your face and thought of the past
But now I know how dirty you are, I took my fist and smashed the glassEven though you'll never come clean
You know it's true
Those sheets are dirty
And so are youEven though you'll never come clean
You know it's true
Those sheets are dirty
And so are youThose sheets are dirty
Those sheets are dirty
Those sheets are dirty
