There Ainâ€™t a Woman

Early Grey

Verse1
I ain't got no invitation to your precious feast of life
But I came to say I'm worry 'bout your heart and mind
Cause you mess around with lady who pretends that sheâ€™s the one
And I never ever thought that you could fall so low, oh no!

Youâ€™re so tired of being a hostage of the sexual intercourse
Sheâ€™s like cat that wanna drag you in the cage of thorns
All your dreams will come to nothing cause youâ€™re lying to yourself

Bridge1
And you've never been scared of Being so dependent
Don't you think it's worthless to be slave to her touch?
So open up your mind - don't let her fool ya, o-oh!

Chorus
There ainâ€™t a woman
That wants a guy like you
There ainâ€™t a woman
Whoâ€™ll make your dreams come true

There ain't a woman
Thatâ€™s gonna love you to death
Don't be frustrated
You donâ€™t deserve it anyway, Oh yeah!

Verse 2
You surround yourself with women that say what you wanna hear
But deep down inside you feel that it just can't be real
So you're living in a glass house but someday they'll throw a stone

Bridge2
Cause your idols are made of
Those who betrayed us
Don't you think it's time to stop fooling yourself?
So open up your eyes - it's now or never, o-oh!

Chorus x2

Alt Bridge
It doesn't matter how hard you try
To earn a place in her heart
You will get no reward
Love is just a word! No!

Chorus x2

There ain't a woman
Thatâ€™s gonna love you, oooooh! (several times)

Lyrics Submitted by Sergey Lisin

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/