

A Woman Caught

Penny and Sparrow

You don't have much practice at being honest with yourself
What hope did you have for showing me that
You don't love nobody else
And hallelujahs are all around
But the roofs caving in
And hallelujahs are all around
And honestly girl where've you been?
I know where you've been
I know where you've been
A couple of drinks is harmless you think
You're gonna let him take you home
It's not like I sleep when you run around on me
I see it all
Lookin to find a way back to bed
Lookin to find a way back
And hallelujahs are all around
But the roof's caving in
And hallelujahs are all around
Honestly girl where you been
I know where you been
I know where you been
I know where you been
End
