Living In A Moment

Ty Herndon

Well the world just lost two lonely people
The world just lost two broken hearts
The odds were against it but baby here we areIn our own little place in our own little corner
This old cold world just got a little warmer
For the rest of my life I'm gonna hold you in my armsAnd when they carve my stone all they'll need to write on it
Is 'Once lived a man who got all he ever wanted'
Tell me something, who could ask for more?
Than to be living in a moment you would die forIf you never get rich on what money can buy
It don't matter to me, I'll tell you why
I've got it all when I'm holding you this wayI'll live to love you, I'd die to keep you
Safe inside these arms that need you
I'll be loving you with the very last breath I takeAnd when they carve my stone all they'll need to write on it
Is 'Once lived a man who got all he ever wanted'
Tell me something, who could ask for more?
Than to be living in a moment you would die forAshes to ashes
Dust into dust
I'll lay beside you
Forever in loveAnd when they carve my stone all they'll need to write on it
Is 'Once lived a man who got all he ever wanted'
Tell me something, who could ask for more?
Than to be living in a moment, loving every minute
Tell me something, who could ask for more?
Than to be living in a moment you would die forLiving in a moment you would die for Oh baby, I'm living in a moment I would die for Oh, living in a moment I would die for
