

Chances

Alpines

I've fallen once before,
When I lost my way to you,
In the freedom of the night,
When feelings start to fly
And the spirits of your soul
They're the ones I want to know
As they grip me true and tight,
I give myself to you.

And now you're taking these chances,
These chances on me,
I hope they're not wasted,
Wasted when you see,

That I've been a fool,
a fool for you,
But only a fool could love you,
Like I do.

We're fleeting like the stars
And you caught me unaware
And is this how angels fall, cos now I fear to tread,

And now you're taking these chances,
These chances on me,
I hope they're not wasted,
Wasted when you see,

That I've been a fool,
a fool for you,
But only a fool could love you,
Like I do.

Like I do, Like I do, Like I do.

Cos I've been a fool,
a fool for you,
But only a fool could love you,
Like I do.
