Anthem

Wes Carr

I come alive
Like a son again, I will rise
In this moment I'm like a fire
I will feed on love
I am burning up for you
I am tearing up, right nowOh can anybody hear me out there?
Is anyone alive out there?
This is the anthem for the lost soul
This is a time that will never grow old
This is the sound of the stereo
This is the anthem for the lost
Tell me what you want
Tell me what you wantWe are gods
We are women and men
We are stars
We deown men now
Lose or win
We are the universe
In this moment (hah)
Don't forget the moment (ah)
We are oneOh can anybody hear me out there?
(So, so) Is anyone alive out there?
This is the anthem for the lost soul
This is a time that will never grow old
This is the sound of the stereo
This is the anthem for the lost
Tell me what you want
Tell me what you wantAnd I never thought I'd ever see it
The day we would light up the whole sky
Send a message you're never alone
So tell me what you want right now(This is the anthem for the lost soul)
(This is a time that will never grow old)
This is the sound of the stereo (you will never be alone)
This is the anthem for the lost
Tell me what you want
Tell me what you want nowThis is the anthem for the lost soul (never fade away, never bow your head)
This is a time that will never grow old (never forget that you lose your step, gonna drop the pain, gonna leave it all behind)
This is the sound of the stereo (we will never be alone)

This is the anthem for the lost (what do you want)
Tell me what you want
Can you tell me what you want now
Woohoo hoo
Tell me what you want... yeah
Woohoo hoo
Tell me what you
Whooo

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/