

No One's Leaving (Live, 1990)

Jane's Addiction

I'm a white bread, I'm a white bread, so?
I'm a got a ring and I hang it through my nose
Got a little game, take it to the park,
Don't care who plays, long as the game is on. My sister and her boyfriend slept in the park,
Had to leave home because he was dark
Now they parade around in New York with a baby boy,
He's gorgeous!
Ain't nobody leaving! Blacks call each other "brother" and "sis,"
Count me in, because I've been missed
I've seen color changed by a kiss,
Just as my brother and my sister. My sister and her boyfriend slept in the park,
Had to leave home because he was dark
Now they parade around in New York with a baby boy,
He's gorgeous!
Ain't nobody leaving! I wish I knew everyone's nickname,
All their slang and all their sayings
Everyone would show affection,
Know how to dress to fit the occasion And I wish we all waved
All waved
All waved
I wish we all
Wish we all
Wish we all
Waved

Songwriters

Reed, Lou Published by

Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>