Forget December

Something Corporate

On Christmas morning
Outside it was pouring
All was hopeless in this home
And no one speaking
No one creeping

To see if she was on the phoneAnd you were quiet
This routine riot is all but practical to me
And if we see it why can't we be it?
Can we let each other be?Forget December
It won't be better than I remember it before

And this month only Would be so lonely

And not so holy anymoreNew year's eve came
But nothing had changed

All the problems just got worse

We sat in silence

The routine science

Could heal the sickness we reherseAnd if I'm talking

My words are mocking

The deaf ears they have fallen on

These words are tainted

With years of jaded

In a sense thats all but goneForget December It won't be better than I remember it before

And this month only

Would be so lonely

And not so holy anymore..

Anymore...anymore...Forget December

It won't be better than I remember it before

And this month only

Would be so lonely

And not so holy anymoreForget December It won't be better than I remember it before

A silent night won't feel quite right

It's not so silent anymore..

Anymore...anymore...On Christmas morning

Outside was pouring

All was hopeless in this home
