Wish I May

Ani Difranco

I'm losing my love of adventure, I'm losing all respect
For me and myself tonight, I wonder what happens if I get to
The end of this tunnel and there isn't a light
I've worn down the treads on all of my tires
I've worn through the elbows and the knees of my clothing
And I'm stumbling down the gravel driveway of desire
Trying not to wake up ny sleepy self-loathing
Do you ever have that dream when you open your mouth
And you try to scream but you can't make a sound?
That's everyday starting now that's everyday starting now
Don't tell me it's gonna be alright, you can't sell me on your Optimism tonight, it's a stiff competition to see who can stay up later
The stars or the street lights and all they really want
Is to be alone with the darkness no more wish I may no more wish I might
It takes a stiff upper lip just to hold up my face
I gotta suck it up and savor the taste of my own behavior
I am spinning with longing faster then a roulette wheel
This is not who I meant to be this is not how I meant to feel
I don't think I am strong enough to do this much longer
God, I wish I was stronger this song could never be long enough
To express every longing God, I wish it was longer
