Miracles

Jeremy Messersmith

Well I come around every now and again
And the lights are low in the flickering
There's a bit of paper torn to pieces on the floor
It's a lonely place cause no one comes here anymoreDo you believe in miracles
It's not an accident
do you believe in miracles; (oh, oh, oh)
This is all we getBreathing you out, breathing you in Laying you down, tucking you in Nothing to do waiting for the sun to rise
There's a space in the clouds where the two of us can hideDo you believe in miracles
It's not an accident
Do you believe in miracles; (oh, oh, oh)
This is all we getDo you believe in miracles
It's not an accident
Do you believe in miracles; (oh, oh, oh)
cause it's all we get
This is all we get
