

You Oughta Be Home With Me

Barry Manilow

Everybody's here, spinnin' the bottle
Everybody dance, dance, dance
And you walk in with your new friend
Well, my friend, have I lost again?
'Cause I know pretty baby
You oughta be home with me
Yes, I know pretty woman
You oughta be home with me
Well, you can love the one you're with
But you can love the one you oughta be with
And tonight pretty baby
You oughta be home with me
You've been lookin' at me tryin' to hide it
You smile so sweet
As you dance by with your new friend
Can't you see it's killin' me?
'Cause I know pretty baby
You oughta be home with me
Yes, I know pretty woman
You oughta be home with me
Well, you can love the one you're with
But you can love the one you oughta be with
And tonight pretty baby
You oughta be home with me
You oughta be home with me, oh woman
Well, you can love the one you're with
But you can love the one you oughta be with
And tonight pretty baby
You oughta be home with me
You oughta be home with me, oh woman
