Door Number Two

Walter Becker

Tell me real, tell me true

Tell me more about door number two

Do me red, do me blue

What goes on behind door number two? Betsy Button, she just got old

She drives to Vegas with a kid or two

She saved her nickels, it sure adds up

Now shes got 'em in a paper cupShe needs three bars, three cherries

Three lemons, three pigs

A date with Elvis, a new car

A roll of dollars for the cookie jarTell me real, tell me true

Tell me more about door number two

Do me red, do me blue

Whats to do behind door number two? Please Mr. Barker, look and see

What are the chances for a city boy?

About my age, my height and weight

What is the payout on an inside straight? A new love, a new hairline

Fame and fortune, a square deal

High adventure in a far-off world

An assignation with a college girlTell me real, tell me true

Tell me more about door number two

Do me red, do me blue

What goes on behind door number two? This old town goes on and on

It ages better than my bag of tricks

Nothing finer for the old morale

Than a tony townhouse in a swank localeThe Bahamas, the Bermudas

The Barbados or I don't know

Gin and tonic on the veranda

A firm appointment with the late, late showTell me real, tell me true

Tell me more about door number two

Do me red, do me blue

What goes on behind door number two?
