Finishing

Kind of Like Spitting

it's amazing what a light I knew
it's amazing what a light I knew
and if you think it's all her fault that just isn't trueI didn't know that I could be so cold I didn't know that I would ever grow and now I'm older than I've ever known the lack of love in my lifeI used to try to crush everything outside of what directly spoke to me now it's not cute, this inconsistency just a lack of love plain in sightit's amazing what a light I knew it's amazing what a light I knew
that just isn't trueI used to say I gave her everything but then I realized it was selfishly you know I do just almost anything to bring her eyes back to mineI hate so deeply the bridge burner fame but still I bark out like a dog on a chain when I think of all the hearts I've left in my way mom and dad you made a big mistakeit's amazing what a light I knew it's amazing what a light I knew
that just isn't trueso here's a song, I'll call it Finishing please don't believe I need your sympathy when all and all the problems rest on me hate to be any doubtit's amazing what a light I knew it's amazing what a light I knew
that just isn't true
