

The Light

Love and Rockets

Those blackest thoughts that rush?
And do you remember when too much time
When too much time was mine? Oh, these days
Oh, they're all mine And do you recall when you walk?
Talk to yourself
In the street In your autumn, in your winter
In your wintertime, time And do you recall when you fall?
I can't help notice
No light in our eyes, in our eyes I give you my armour, I give you my glory
I give you what's truly mine And if you want
Give me, ooh Heaven
Because Heaven should be mine
