Everything and More

StorySide:B

Pin it all on me, He said
As He turned His head to the sun
I'm the only one who can wash it all away
Take a look at yourself
Do you know when things aren't right?
Are you willing to stand up and fight?
For what you say you're believing in?We all are human we make mistakes but We were given a choice to makeWhat do you live for? Is it something to stand for?
Is it everything that you believe in and more?
A reason to give more, finally you found yours
And it's everything that you believe and moreAnd as I look around
It's impossible to deny
Even though sometimes I try
You still take me back againMy God, I've finally found a friend
To follow to the endWhat do you live for? Is it something to stand for?
Is it everything that you believe in and more?
A reason to give more, finally you found yours
And it's everything that you believe and moreWhat do you live for? Is it something to stand for?
Is it everything and moreWhat do you live for? Is it something to stand for?
Is it everything that you believe in and more?
A reason to give more, finally you found yours
And it's everything that you believe and moreYou're what I live for, you're what I stand for
And you're everything that I believe and more
My reason to give more, finally I found you
And you're everything that I believe and more

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/