Perfect for Me

3PM

Tonight you're on a plan, a thousand miles away
But you left too soon there's so much I had left to say so now
I'll let this song deliver the words I was too scared to whisper to you
So listen close, so you'll know
I can't wait till you get homeI remember every word you said that night as we laid in separate beds
It's all been said before but something's different this time I want more Than options unexplored, a different outcome's what I'm looking for Please tell me you feel the same I'm sensing something but baby I'm not sureI can't believe it took this long to see
You're perfect for me, but just a little too late I
Know I should've kissed you then and god knows when I'll get the chance again
I'll scream my lungs out just to let you know, I can't wait till you get homeI remember those nights when we were younger, we really only had eachother
I wish we didn't wait but it's not too late it's never too late so now
When you fall asleep tonight, play this song imagine I'm Right there by your side it's finally our time
I can't believe it took this long to see
You're perfect for me, but just a little too late I
Know I should've kissed you then and god knows when I'll get the chance again
I'll scream my lungs out just to let you know, I can't wait till you get home
