

Subtober (feat. Mark Peters)

Engineers

Every time you get fear
There are silent signs that lead on
And your speech is so free of life
Won't you show me
What your better side can remember? You find it hard to believe
That all this started before our lives
Time to think as you fall outside what you'll find
When you summon all that piece of mind
You've got to smile now that he's walking
You've know your face will tell a different story
You're gonna see that it will be fine
We've made those mistakes for the last time You find it hard to believe
That all this started before our lives
Time to think as you fall outside what you'll find
When you summon all that piece of mind You've got to smile now that he's walking
You've know your face will tell a different story
You're gonna see that it will be fine
We've made those mistakes for the last time
You've got to smile now that he's walking
You've know your face will tell a different story
You're gonna see that it will be fine
We've made those mistakes for the last time
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>