Chariot

Jacob Lee

How do you do that with your eyes,
You know it gets me every time,
I swear I wish I could read your mind,
Cause I ask the same question every nightSo just breath, breath in, breath deep,
You know that's all you need,
I can't describe your eyes, but they're as blue as the sea,
Your heart beats in perfect time with meBaby you know that I won't mind,
If we get no rest til' the sunrise,
Until you make me fall in love again as light shows your face,
I could never be the same,
I plan to love you all my life,
until you meet your ChariotWhat would I do without your eyes,
The way they look at me and mine,
And when your smile creates that dimple,
I tend to be used as your pillowSo just breath, breath in, release,
You know that's all you need,
I can't describe your eyes, but when they're looking at me,
My heart it beats, & I can't seem to dream,Baby you know that I won't mind,
If we get no rest til' the sunrise,
Until you make me fall in love again as light shows your face,
I could never be the same,
I plan to love you all my life,
until you meet your ChariotYour fingers are mine, as they intertwine,
You're telling me words unspoken
Our fingers align, as they intertwine,
You break my heart wide openYour fingers are mine, as they intertwine,
You're telling me words unspoken
Our fingers align, as they intertwine,
You break my heart wide openBaby you know that I won't mind,
(Baby you know I won't mind)
If we get no rest til' the sunrise,
(If we get no rest, no rest)
Until you make me fall in love again as light shows your face,
I could never be the same,
I plan to love you all my life, yeah
Until you meet your Chariot
Ohhh
Until you meet your Chariot
Ohhh

Until you meet your Chariot
