Purple Wonderland

Cathedral

Since love has came to me
Since then you've walked away
Life is a mysteryThe roses on my coffin
Are the dreams that you gave to me
Love is blindAnd all the flowers died for you
This land so black, so fair for youHere in this wonderland
Purple the ecstasy
Mist enticing, penetrating
Lust I inhaleCold is the night today
Darker than months of May
Love is blindYour arms where a hearse for me
Desire driving me
Into this graveAnd all the bells shall ring for you
Transparent love we shall see throughSleep in this wonderland
Of purple ecstasy
Mist enticing, penetrating
Lust I inhaleFear not the wind
It's telling a tale
Into the whitest night
We slip awayNot dead
Do you need to see?
Do you need to believe?
Not dead enough to believe
Not dead enough to believe
