

It was You

12 Stones

It was You
That showed me who I am
And taught me how to stand
For what I know is real I was sick of all the pain
Tired of all the shame that I felt
But You showed me a way To never have a doubt
And always to believe in myself
Now I see It was You
That showed me who I am
And taught me how to stand
For what I know is real Now I'm breathing for the first time
And I'm leaving all this behind
I've become what I am because of You
It was You I'm so sorry 'bout the ways
But I can't take away my past
But You love me anyway And now I wanna do
Everything for You that I can
Even though it won't erase The foolish things that I've done
Things that blinded me
But now I see It was You
That showed me who I am
And taught me how to stand
For what I know is real Now I'm breathing for the first time
And I'm leaving all this behind
And I'll stand for what I know is real So how can I make this up to You?
I'll fight and I'll push and I'll strive
Now that I living my life for You I'll fight and I'll push and I'll strive Can't You see? It was You
That showed me who I am
And taught me how to stand
For what I know is real Now I'm breathing for the first time
And I'm leaving all this behind
I've become what I am because of You
(It was You) I can see the writing on the wall
As time begins to crawl away from me
And I've become what I am because of You
It was You
