

Dead Rabbit Hopes

The Shoe

Well maybe my beauty was only meant to be seen by the men a crow beside me a scavenger king my body a savaged thing
And every corner, every glade and every part never touched, never craved are now becoming blooming alive, with lips so pretty and one with my thighs
I am hungry for you
I am chewing straight through you
I am dying to get to know you
(oh oh oh)
(oh oh oh)

Maybe my beauty was only meant to be seen on death's bed a crow beside me a scavenger king my body ravishing
And every corner, every glade and every part never touched, never craved are now becoming blooming alive, with lips so pretty and one with my eyes
I am hungry for you
I am chewing straight through you
I am trying to get to know you

I never knew the way you looked at me I'd be this kind of gal this kind of woman that only sees when she is free but life is good to me and you are kind and all my friends they know how to press rewind with me Well I've only seen your face too many times but love won't turn me, it won't turn me unkind not yet
I'm ready to confess
I am hungry for you
I am chewing straight through you
I am trying to get to know you
True love's holy wisdom of love never waste
True love's holy wisdom of love never waste

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>