Are You There?

Oleander

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

When I feel too far away
From where I want to be
There's nothing left for me, yeah
When I feel too close to breathe
Like a baby cutting teeth
In you I find relief'Cause when it's more than I can take
I pushed and pulled to break
A sucker for a saint in your eyes
Criticism comes in waves
Numbering our days
But only you can save meIs anybody even there
Who doesn't just pretend to care
This time I need to know, are you there?
Does anybody think they can
Begin to even understand
This time I need to know, are you there?Hang on, hang on I know, I knowIt's the lie that we believe
A truth that we conceive
That lies inside of me
When I leave it all behind
Something hypnotized
The moment that it's mineIs anybody even there?
Who doesn't just pretend to care
This time I need to know, are you there?
Does anybody think they can
Begin to even understand this time I need to know, are you there?Is anybody even there?
Who doesn't just pretend to care
This time I need to know, are you there?
Does anybody think they can
Begin to even understand
This time I need to know, are you there?

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/