Maze by Hi-Lite Real

Hook:
Life is a maze everywhere i walk
Theres a wall closing in certain paths get me lost if i acknowledge him in every single way
Then he will direct my path as I'm running through the maze

(Bridge)

Dear Lord will you guide me
So i never get lost in another
Lost in another
Dear Lord will you guide me
So i never get lost in another
Lost in another Maze

Verse 1:

I remember in school looking around at those success banners
With all the wise quotes about learning and good manners
Yeah man its funny how that picture of success paints
Sometimes it ain't what you know its who you know yet its still faint
In a world full of dreamers
The goal to work for yourself with your own demeanour i mean A simple piece of paper defines that Kind of ironic since the paper is what runs all that
For a while i used to try figure out where my life was Until i started writing then i realized what my life was A school i went to said the power of potential
An Now i know the power thank the man for those credentials

Verse 2:

Sometimes the realist friends you have ain't alive anymore
Plus they have your back in that next life thats in store
If y'all only knew my late nights and morning thoughts
Then you would know how deep i really am but might get lost
I'm in my feelings let me stop it
Back to the main subject

Pop quizzes tend to hit you from time to time when you least expect it
Whats the answer cheaters are quick to look at your paper
Hit em with a Christmas tree then rearrange it later
A hard head makes a soft behind so they say
Take a look around you see a lot of that today
I'm feeling lyrical must be from that spiritual guidence
Something empirical nothing short of miracle
