Truth

Neil Finn

Remember who we are, supple and new
If I lose my way you'd tell me the truth for all it's worth
Lifting up your hand, show me my rescueWhat I said, truth is worth more than pride
Truth is worth more than prideEverything you do continues long after you've gone
Circle overhead, view from the bed, so high and lonely
Sixteen times a day, he comes to ground
To get some attention'Cause what I said, truth is worth more than pride
Truth, it cannot be denied
Truth is worth more than prideThey have showered me with riches
And they say that I am worthy of their love
And their attention but they still don't know the truthEverything you do continues long after you've goneWhat I said, truth is worth more than pride
Truth cannot be denied
Truth is worth more than prideView from the bed, so high and lonely
So high and lonely
Truth is worth more than pride, hey heyView from the bed, so high and lonely
So high and lonely
View from the bed, so high
