Miss That Girl

Diamond Rio

Cold gray dawn, steel blue day, sunset rust tonight
It's the same old picture to a love struck man
Who's suddenly seen the light
And I miss that girl
Yeah I miss that girlI guess I moved too slow and thought too fast
And lost what might have been
And now I face the pain of a wounded heart dyin' to try again
But I missed my chance and now she's gone
Life's too short and the odds too long to miss that girlWell I miss that kiss and I miss that smile
A miss like this is a million miles
And I miss that girl
Yeah I miss that girlSometimes I hear that voice and see those eyes
And I remember when those arms were open wide
It's like I missed the phone by half a ring
I missed the point of this whole dang thing
And I miss that girlYeah I miss that kiss and I miss that smile
A miss like this is a million miles
And I miss that girl
Ohh I miss that girlHey, I miss that kiss and I miss that smile
A miss like this is a million miles
And I miss that girl
Ohh, I miss that girl, ohOhh, I miss that girl
