

Wave After Wave

Iona

Wave after wave rolls on
And the water falls and the line is drawn
Wave after wave rolls in
And the line is gone where my feet have been
Wave after wave rolls on
And the water falls and the line is drawn
Wave after wave rolls in
And the line is gone where my feet have been
Hills that I know are there
Hidden from my view by the misty air
Light shining through the gray
Turns the water deep shades of lilac blue
Music in every sound light beyond each cloud
Hope in every dream
Songs like a healing breeze every breath inhale
And the goodness feel
I witness the power great mystery telling
In every moment with every swelling wave
I feel the depth of your love and devotion
My heart like the bird that dives into this ocean blue
Lanes that have brought me here
Framed in season flowers lined in summer green
Music in every sound light beyond each cloud
Hope in every dream
Songs like a healing breeze every breath inhale
And the goodness feel
In a song of love
Light shining through the gray
Turns the water deep shades of lilac blue
Music in every sound light beyond each cloud
Hope in every dream
Songs like a healing breeze every breath inhale
And the goodness feel
In a song of love
Music in every sound light beyond each cloud
Hope in every dream
