Into The Dark

Marc Moulin

Dad, your boy is about to fall
He walks the razor's edge
He's on the brink of fading out
He's at his bitter end
Dad, your boy who used to run
You taught him how to crawl
He left home to find his own
Now all he had is gone
In your eyes I see a darkness that torments you
And in your head where it dwells
I'd give you my hand if you'd reach out and grab it
Let's walk away from this hell
In your eyes I see a darkness that torments you
And in your head where it dwells
I'd give you my hand if you'd reach out and grab it
Let's walk away from this hell
Mom, your baby is on his way
He'll soon be at your side
'Cause he's forgotten all he's known
A part of him has died
Mom may never understand
Why baby's come and gone
He left home to find his own
Now all he has are lies
In your eyes I see a darkness that torments you
And in your head where it dwells
I'd give you my hand if you'd reach out and grab it
Let's walk away from this hell
In your eyes I see a darkness that torments you
And in your head where it dwells
I'd give you my hand if you'd reach out and grab it
Let's walk away from this hell
In your eyes
In your eyes
In your eyes
In your eyes
In your eyes I see a darkness that torments you
And in your head where it dwells
I'd give you my hand if you'd reach out and grab it

Let's walk away from this hell
In your eyes I see a darkness that torments you
And in your head where it dwells
I'd give you my hand if you'd reach out and grab it
Let's walk away from this hell
