

Disbelief

RPWL

This is your god, god of love
On condition of belief, belief in lies here lies no truth,
Truth can never be your creed,
You believe what you're allowed not for want of what you need
In the beginning was the word, word of god
God of light and god of dark, if he's good he's also bad
Come take a pill :
You believe what you're allowed not for the want of what you need
Among your virtues
I prefer to stay a man of disbelief
The only truth lies in the stars above
That guide us through the sea
This is your life, your own life, like and act,
Act of will, will to power, to release,
The inner nature of ourselves don't believe what You're allowed but for the want of what you need
With great respect it's not his word, but those of Paul,
Lies of Paul, I don't want to be a saint
I would rather be a clown, I won't believe what I'm allowed
But for the want of what I need
Among your virtues
I prefer to stay a man of disbelief
The only truth lies in the stars above
That guide us through the sea
Here where the islands grow
The ships stray through the night
All the burning souls with their needs and their desires
By some inner urge they come to see the light
And when the night is done they gather to conspire
Reaching out to wipe away the veil of lies
There's no heaven , there's no hell , you pay the price
Here and now for the want of your needs
Among your virtues
I prefer to stay a man of disbelief
The only truth lies in the stars above
That guide us through the sea
Among your virtues
I prefer to stay a man of disbelief
The only truth lies in the stars above

That guide us through the sea
