Little Silver Heart

Lucero

You're too sweet to let go off
But I don't need to fall in love
Now I'm too tired to talk my way out of this one
It's a losing game, had enoughIt's too late to make things right
And there ain't no strength left in this heart of mine
Now we make quite a pair
But we never got our share of good times, sure [Incomprehensible]Little silver heart
That you once adored
And you don't wear my heart
Around your neck no moreYou're too good for this game of mine
And girl, I'd known, I never treat you right
Just a little silver heart, send my lucky star
On a little silver chain, valentineLittle silver heart
That you once adored
And you don't wear my heart
Around your neck no moreAll the tears were cried for you
That don't mean a thing
All the tears were cried for me
That won't change meYou're too sweet to let go off
But I don't need to fall in love
Now I'm too tired to talk my way out of this one
It's a losing game, had enough
