Wake Up

Under The Flood

Wake up, save us from turning to
Everything we see inside you
Hate runs deep in that part of you
And the cycle will continueSo unaware, we're so unafraid
Your empty stare, leads your eyes away
The one thing we all can fear lives in us
The wandering lives are helpless victimsWe rise to fall, we lose it all.Run
Closer to the feeling we've lost
We can become
So much more than how we live
Wait
It's just another fear in your life
We can replace
Everything we areMore broken hearts are all we see
Been torn apart by jealously
The one thing we all can fear moves in us
The wandering eyes are losing focusWell are we losing our faith?
Can we not overcome?
How long will we wait before we're overrun?[Chorus]Wake up, save us from turning to
Everything we see inside you
Hate runs deep in that part of you
And the cycle will continueAre we losing our faith?
Can we not overcome?
How much more will we wait before we're overrun?[Chorus]
