I Won't Let Go

Matraca Berg

I hear an echo through the aching distance
I know your injured voice
You stand behind this wall of ice between us
I guess you had no choiceYou had to save yourself, I understand
You're afraid to put your heart into my careless handsOh, they're so much stronger now
If you could find a way somehow to trust in meI won't let go
I won't let go
If you're in need
Hold on to me
I won't let you go this time
This timeSometimes a foolish heart will try to travel
Faster than the speed of grace
It's like we try to ride off into the sunset
And fall off into spaceI realized what I had done
When I almost let you crash into the sun
You were only reaching out
I will never let you down that way againI won't let go
I will not let go
If you're in need
Hold on to me
I won't let go
This time
