Crumpled Glory

Vain

So you're feeling so alone and now your waiting by the phone.
But don't you know that you can always count on me?
And on this page of crumpled glory is all that's left of our last story?
But dont you know that I will always be there for you?
Turn the stone, turn the stone, turn the stone.
Now things don't always go like you wanted them to.

Sorry while i sit here with my wine.
But it makes me think of all those times.
That we used to laugh and have the whole world right in our hands.
It's a little cheap corner store kind.
It's going to help me through this bind.
I got a page of crumpled glory to believe.
Turn the stone, turn the stone, turn the stone.
Now things don't always go like you wanted them to.
(solo)
Now things don't always go like you wanted them to.
Now things don't always go like you wanted them to.
Things don't always go.

Feel the cold wind blow..all your memories.
Things don't always go.
