

Dedication

Jamie Woon

Nameless makers
Who made it to the end
Millions of marks on papers
And credit in the wind But living on All I can say is
Because of another Because of another
Maybe I might dedicate my days and nights from now on To living on
A dedication left in time for another
A dedication left in time for another (Dedicated to the unknown
Dedicated to the moonlight
Dedicated to the elements
Dedicated to the never known
Dedicated to all another life) Creators cultivated
A spirit in the swing
Were oppressed and faced by hatred
But sang it out again And living on All I can say is
Because of another Because of another
Maybe I might dedicate my days and nights from now on To living on
A dedication left in time for another
A dedication left in time for another
A dedication left in time for another
A dedication left in time for another (Dedicated to the unknown
Dedicated to the moonlight
Dedicated to the elements
Dedicated to the never known
Dedicated to all another life)
