

Faces

2 Unlimited

Look around you
What do the faces tell you?
Faces, joy and pain
Faces, all around different faces I see
Some are happy, some in misery
They express joy and pain
No two faces are the same
People, people all over town
Some of them are poor and others wear a crown
I've seen a lot so many faces
Joy and pain in different places
Open your mind, set your soul free
Figure it out, what will it be?
Sympathize, understand
Give love and peace to the other fellow man
Faces, faces, joy and pain
Look around you
What do the faces tell you?
Everywhere I go, different faces I see
Faces, all around different faces I see
Some are happy, some in misery
They express joy and pain
No two faces are the same
Playing with your life, playing with your soul
You all scream out, "I'm the one in control"
Killing of the colors, silly stupid games
You know who you are without no names
Don't mess the world cause that's the sequel
Open your mind cause we talking about the people
In the world, all kind of traces
Different races, different faces
Different faces, everywhere
