Someday

Crossfade

Someday I'll talk about it
One day I'll mention it to you
Someday I'll be over this
And strong like youI am never changing
I could feel this way for days and days
Look you straight in the face
And fake my smileTake this hurt away and bring back yesterday
I could say sorry in a thousand ways
You won't let this be without killing me
Can't put this bottle down
As I watch this day fade in the nightMy blessings, my flaws
I've learned all the lessons that cannot be told
Any nuisance that I brought
And no more excuses, I want a new startWith all our eyes
There's no wondering why things aren't working anymore
But now I'm feeling fine, flying higher
Got the chance to start againMy blessings, my flaws
I've learned all the lessons that cannot be told
Any nuisance that I brought
And no more excuses, I want a new startSomeday I'll talk about it
One day I'll mention it to you
Someday I'll be over this
Strong like you
Strong like youI'm ready to go, I'm ready to leave
Why don't you answer the radio
Ready to go, just watch me leave
It's so hard to see when I'm on my way down
It's so hard to see when I'm on my way down
