Don't you think there might be a better way
Don't you think there might be truth in the middle of these lies

Don't you think there might be more to this life
Don't you think there might be a better way
Don't you think there might be truth in the middle of these lies
You'll find it in time if you followThe same invitation He gave to His disciples, Jesus offers to me
To be my bread, to be my drink
To resurrect what's dead in me

Don't you think there might be more to this life
Don't you think there might be a better way
Don't you think there might be truth in the middle of these lies
You'll find it in time if you follow
