Acceleration Group

The Sound

The flames will flicker
and the wanting will waver
But there's something in this somewhere That's going to go on forever Don't put my fingers on it, can't get my tongue around it But it still feels as good as the day I found it We go oh oh oh oh oh oh oh oh oh
And we're leaving you behind The song's not been sung yet it's not all been done yet
And you only think it has because your brain's stopped in it's tracks You rip apart the extremes trying to fit them in your in betweens But we want no part of it, we just don't want to fit
So we go oh, oh oh, oh
And we' re leaving you behindIt makes me sad to see What's happening in your life Wouldn't it be just like me
To go down there with you tonight
But I've asked myself this question And it's once too many times and it's all Why do I try, why do I try, why do I, try why do I even try I'm leaving you behind
The flames will flicker
and the wanting will waver
The storm will stutter but I won't blow over Until the war is won Until the song is sung and the work is done It's the acceleration group with the acceleration groove, formation fighting, form in a line
The acceleration group
with the acceleration groove, formation fighting, form into one

The next boat is yours
