

Bloodflow

Vaults

Angel, you don't have to sit with a pack of wolves

You don't have to live so brutal

Lying with your demons

Dinosaur, following your steps till you reach your door

The only one left, you can't hide you more

Than lying with a demon

And it's a high price, paid in blood

To the very last drop

All that you were was a sacrifice

So just let the blood flow now

And it's a high price, paid in blood

To the very last drop

All that you were was a sacrifice

So just let them blood flow now

The circles trace, marking out the path that they can't erase

All that you had was a lack of grace

From lying with that demon

And now you are tied by your body to a crystal jar

Doomed not to feel it forever

And lonely for a demon

And it's a high price, paid in blood

To the very last drop

All that you were was a sacrifice

So just let the blood flow now

And it's a high price, paid in blood

To the very last drop

All that you were was a sacrifice

So just let the blood flow now

This is the real world, do you know it now

This is the [?] keep the blood flowing
