

Your Name Has Slipped My Mind Again

Ultravox

Something stops me from seeing too clear
A misty haze floats round the room
The murmurs make it hard to hear
The voices and the words
The days seem to drag away
My speech is sparse and tends to slur
I wonder what happened to my friend to day
Can't hear the words[Chorus:]
Your name has slipped my mind again
Your name has slipped my mind againIt's hard to focus in this light
I'm growing warm and feeling dull
The heartbeat pounds with vicious fright
There's something to remember
I clench my fist but feel no sensation
The walls around me spin and sway
A flash back image in my vision
I remember(Repeat chorus 3 times)
